

SCIENCE IN THE MOVIES: THE GOOD, THE BAD, AND THE FUNNY

Ever raised an eyebrow at Hollywood science? Ever watched an action scene and thought, “That can’t be right”? Ever wanted to take a break from studying to watch some seriously funny videos?

If so, you’re cordially invited to join Professor Gary DeLeo and the Society of Physics students for “Science in the Movies: The Good, The Bad, and the Funny”. Armed with nothing but his trusty projector, Prof. DeLeo will examine clips from films and TV and examine the science within them; he’ll show us where films have predicted the future, demonstrated the laws of nature, or simply crashed and burned. Above all, he’ll reveal that movie science is sometimes surprisingly good, sometimes frightfully bad, and often side-splittingly funny.
